Corns Come Right Off, Clean and Quick! You Needn't Limp, or Fuss With Your Corns Any More!

"These Corns Come Right Off, Clean As a Whistle, by Using 'Gets-It'!"

the new way. That's why "Gets-It" has become the corn remedy of America, the biggest selling corn remedy in the world, preferred by millions. No more fussing, no more pain. Whenever you use simple, easy "Gets-It," the corn is doomed, sure. So is every callus, wart or bunion. SCHOOLS EXAMINED.

Visiting Nurse and Doctors Make Thorough Inspection of Schools.

A medical examination of the grammar grades of the white public schools was made Monday by Miss Emma Hunt, the visiting nurse, and Dr. Frank Sites, Jr., and Dr. M. W. Rozzell.

The examiners found the schools as a whole in remarkably good condition. The chief trouble they found was children whose teeth showed lack of proper attention, and some who suffered from adenoids, etc. The examination was very thorough. Arrangements have been made whereby children who are too poor to pay for medical treatment may secure same when necessary for the treatment of troubles which they may now have which can be comparatively easily overcome if taken in hand at once.

COUNT LOCHWITZSKI HAS JOB OF DRILLMASTER

Count A. M. Lochwitzski, the Russian nobelman, who has lectured in Providence and spent several days here last winter, has been selected as drillmaster at the Western Kentucky Hospital for the Insane at Hopkinsville. This is a new idea for the treatment of insanity, and closely akin to treatment by music. It is reported that there is a marked improvement in the condition of the inmates at the end of the first week's treatment.—Providence Enterprise.

Mule's Ear a Beehive.

(Rome, N. Y., Correspondence New York World.)

C. E. Edgecross, of Hastings Center, Oswego county, recently took one of his mules from the pasture, where it had been for several weeks, and while hitching it up noticed several bees flying around the animal's head. Fearing that their presence would bring an attack of nerves to the mule, he choked them off, but they promptly returned and disappeared in the animal's right ear.

Mr. Edgecross investigated and says he found the bees had swarmed in the lower part of the ear and had deposited a considerable amount of honey in a comb. The swarm was dislodged, the honey cleaned out, and it was found that the interior of the ear was inflamed from stings. Mr. Edgecross lost a hive of bees a few weeks ago.

Spares The Faces.

Cliff Berryman, one of the cleverest cartoonists in America, and one of the most genial and whole-souled of men, enjoys perhaps a unique distinction in his art, writes Daisy Fitzhugh Ayres in her Weekly Washington letters to the Courier-Journal. He never caricatures a face. However grotesque the pose and situation may be of the human object whom the circumstances of the day suggest to be the butt of his incisive pencil, the victim's facial characteristics, no matter what the expression of the moment depicted, are never in the least degree distorted.

CASKET MADE OF GLASS BOUND BY METAL.

Made of two pieces which are bound together by heavy metal bands, a glass casket has been invented which will soon be introduced for burial purposes. This serves both as a coffin and as a vault, as it requires no protection against the chemical action of the earth. When closed it is hermetically sealed and is proof against both air and water. Two sections are molded in heavy glass, which gives the casket great strength. Its general form is the same, practically, as that of other burial receptacles. The chief point advanced in its favor is its obvious qualities of durability.—From the October Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Twice a Hero.

A. T. Rice, Jr., aged 14, Paris, Ky., has again proven himself a hero worthy of a Carnegie medal, by saving the life of Howard Smith, a companion, aged 12, while swimming in Stoner Creek. Smith was caught by a treacherous undercurrent and swept to the bottom of the stream, where he would have undoubtedly drowned had it not been for the heroic act of young Rice, who dived after him with one arm, paddled safely to the shore with the other bringing his human burden. Smith was unconscious, but by prompt measures was soon resuscitated.

When Rice was only 10 years old he rescued Gillard Neal, another companion, from a watery grave, after he had broken thru the ice and gone under in several feet of water. He is the hero of the town today for this last life-saving exploit.

Husband-Killer on Trial.

The most important case pending at the present special term of the Martin Circuit Court is that of Mrs. Columbia Howard, thirty-two years old, of Wolfe Creek, charged with the killing of her husband, Jack Howard, forty-five, on the night of June 13. She shot off the top of his head in a fit of jealousy.

RADIUM EXTRACTED CHEAPLY BY GOVERNMENT EXPERTS.

According to an official announcement, a new process for extraction of radium from the carnotite ores of Colorado, which has been undertaken by the Bureau of Mines, is now being employed profitable on a manufacturing basis. The experimental work has passed and the results are far more gratifying than was ever expected.

Metallic radium has been produced in the form of bromide at a cost of $36,050 a gram. The great importance of this may best be appreciated by comparing the figures with the ordinary prices for the substance, which have ranged between $120,000 and $160,000 a gram.—From the October Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Calling Bulgaria's Hand.

A joint note has been delivered to Bulgaria by the Entente Allies asking in effect that Bulgaria define her position, making it clear whether she casts her lot with the Allies or with the Germanic Powers. The note is not an ultimatum, but is said to be of such a nature that Bulgaria can scarcely avoid making known her determination.
